“ U will be miss but u are in are hearts

“ Where do I even start.... This beautiful women meant the world to me & I loved her with my whole heart. It was 1997 I meant her for the first time & not only did she welcome me into her home, she made me a part of her life and loved me as though I was one of her own. Throughout those 20 + yrs we really had some great times that I will never forget. She was truly my best friend & Mom all in one.. My heart will never be the same without her.. What I can tell you is she fought this fight like a true warrior, determined every inch of the way that she would give this cancer hell and fight it until she couldnt anymore..She did just that!! always keeping a postive attitude, always worried more about everyone other than herself and NEVER once had a pity party, because she said there was always someone who had it worse then her...she held her head high and I have never seen anyone be so strong in my whole life...Love you always Ma and i will forever be grateful for all you did...I know that one day we will be together again, until then you are my angel watching over us all because a mother's job is never done and you always said "everything is gonna be alright" and I believe it will be. RIP Mom I love you...

“ My mom was the most beautiful inspiration a daughter could ever ask for. There was never a moment she wasent there for a word of advice or a listening ear. She always knew when we needed her the most. To the point she would call and say 'what's wrong ' ? I will miss those calls mom. My heart is breaking. Absolutely love the special memories we shared over the last couple months. Taking the good with the bad. My Warrior but most of all my friend my Mama. I love you more.
